

Provision of furniture in the abstract - a comfortable home

Miguel Jorge Castro Pinho - 2008 ©

I decided to get involved in something to protect me . Something permanent should welcome that and told me yourself back : I'm here. I then decided to buy a house . Could rather have been trying to build one. It would further possessing affinities. But he still had the chance of furniture to give a personal touch . It would be a way to feel good and to transmit and receive at the same time what I am. There is the classic style, I think . This is for older or conservative , may not serve to me . I remembered a picture of childhood , that he liked and more at the same time made me think less in terms of real and more in hypothetical terms or constructions not plausible statement of the weight of the ordinary. Was abstract . How about a house with provision of furniture in an unconventional way , which tries to imitate not all existing and perpetuated by constant choices styles . Would feel equally well . Hmm mimic the box childhood ... An array of furniture in abstract form . Already knew - would rain comments to their lack of functionality , its almost abnormality. But could I feel good . It would be a infuncional but comfortable home in terms of conveying a clear trail for similar situations in terms of the real world but now in the impalpable . It would be a leak while I'm here saying something - something hazy , constantly building roads . As a framework but also as just a house .